

MIKE KEENAN

Stanley Cup-winning coach Mike Keenan has joined the Road Hockey To Conquer Cancer team!

Mike Keenan began his long NHL coaching career with the Philadelphia Flyers in 1984, taking them to the Stanley Cup final in 1987. In 1988, he joined the Chicago Blackhawks. Mike was hired by the New York Rangers in 1993 and led that franchise in 1994 to its first Stanley Cup championship since 1940. The following season, 'Iron Mike' was hired by the St. Louis Blues as coach and general manager. He joined the Vancouver Canucks in 1997-98 and the Boston Bruins in 2000-01. In 2001-02, Keenan was named coach of the Florida Panthers, later becoming the team's general manager. Prior to the 2007-08 season, Mike joined the Calgary Flames. Through 20 NHL seasons, Mike Keenan was coached 1,386 regular season games. His 672 career wins place him fifth all-time amongst National Hockey League coaches.